If you have a whiteboard, then it is very important to take care of it so that you can utilize it for many years. By a little bit of protection of your whiteboard can make it look new for a longer time and you won't feel the need to buy a new one. However, you must be thinking of some of the best ways to maintain it. This can save your time and money as well. This article will give you some of the most easy and best tips to maintain your whiteboard and to protect it from any kind of damages.

Some of the most useful and practical tips are given below:

Remove Protective Film:

First of all, remove the protective film that is put on the surface of board during its making so as to avoid scratch.

Make use of the right markers:

This is considered one of the useful tips that you can do in order to keep the board in the right shape. Always try to make sure that the markers you are using are specially used for whiteboards.

If you find it difficult to figure out whether the marker you're buying is a permanent or the whiteboard marker, in that case you must first read everything that is written on the marker. The instructions written on it can be of great help. Markers like permanent markers and highlighters aren't of good quality. Always try to avoid buying them.

Make sure you erase the board regularly:

After picking the right markers, make sure you pick the right white board eraser as well. This is very important when it comes to the maintenance of your whiteboard. Make sure the erasers you are using for your whiteboard are specially designed for it. Good erasers wipe the dirt on the most much better than the towels or rags. Try to clean your board every day. This will protect your board will all kind of marks and stains.

Use a cleaner that is a commercial one:

Cleaning your whiteboard with a commercial cleaner can be an easy task. A lot of these cleaners are easily available in the market. These are usually made by Joshen manufacturers who make whiteboard that are of high-quality. These are a bit expensive than the usual ones but are very effective. They are usually available in 3-ounce spray bottles and wipes.

There are certain cleaners available that are able to remove the permanent marks on the whiteboard. Always try to avoid using household cleaners such as nail and baby oil or other solutions in order to clean your whiteboard. These things not only cause damage to your whiteboard but are always considered dangerous for human health.

Try to clean it more often:

The more a whiteboard is used, the more it is needed to clean it on regular basis. If it is being used every day, then a person must try to clean it at least thrice in a week. By cleaning it regularly can help you utilize it for a long period of time and will help you save money.
